INDIAN AFFAIRS

ed that it become a object of interest to know what line of Indian police.

Government intends purple the ing summer. the territories are attracting more attention than ever; they are looked upon as one of the main dependences for paying off the national debt, and the greatest obstacle to their development is the depredations of the Indians, not so much apon the miners themselves, as the lines of travel upon which they depend for their support. Hence this question of not taken to the mation. That the Indian can be influenced through any other motive then fear is universally admitted by must be taught to know that the Govpunish his misdeeds. Let him be the party to sue for pasce, and until he comes to those terms let him receive due punthat even if some unprincipled white does steal his ponies, it does not license him to murder hundreds of innocent women and children. Let him him know that he is living in a white man's country and he must conduct himself according to white men's laws.

No other policy can secure a lasting peace. Government may send as many delegations of its political pets or as many wagon-loads of presents to the Plains as it chooses, but the only influence they have upon the Indian is to convince him of the weakness of the nation. Over a thousand years ago the ancient Britons attempted to keep peace with the barbarians of the North by granting them presents and annuities, and the result was the overthrow of the netion; and yet this is precisely the policy, many of our statesmen are advocating towards a fee more ignorant and treacherous than those same Northern barbarians.

Now that important interests are at stake, it is time for the Government to wake up, rid itself of its Cooper-Longfellow idea of the "noble Indian." and go to-work in earnest toward those saveges who have already commenced their sugmer operations in every Terri-tory and Pacific State.

WHETHER Austria's necessity is to be Italy's opportunity, in the approaching conflict of the two grest German powers, remains to be seen. There are gumors of an alliance between Italy and Prussia. Anstria is said to be strengthening the line of the Adige. Meanwhile Prussia sends a circular to the smaller states of Germany to anticipate their encouragement and support, and, in reply to the admenitions of England and other powers, asserts that the peace of Europe is threatened solely by Austria! The generally expressed solicitude on the part of the crowned heads that the peace should not be disturbed is the best omen for the gain of freedom from an otherwise deplorable struggle. The wave of revolution has bitherto started from Paris. Today it may begin at Berlin, Vienna, or even Venice.—N. Y. Nation.

Chicago, May 5.

The House passed the bill establishing biennial sessions of the Legislature of Washington Territory, and doubling the pay of members. GENERAL NEWS.

New York, May 5. The Journal of Commerce says the week has been one of excitement, and business lower on Wall Street, caused at Dashaway Hall this evening the anniby a discovery of the Legislature before adjournment, which imposes a state tax of one per cent. on all brokers' sales of foreign or domestic wines and ardent spirits, half of one per cent. on sales of merchandize or produce imported, and three quarters of one per cent, on sales of any foreign produce. It is estimated that $700,000,000 of merchandise were sold last year through the brokers of this city, but exactly how much will be subject to this tax we cannot say, but the interest thus effected is immense, and if duly executed will cause an immense revolution in the trade of the metropolis. Boston will be enabled to win back a large part of the tea trade, and Philadelphia and Baltimore will attract no inconsiderable portion of the coffee and sugar trade. Since this State tax will amount to a very heavy burden on cargo movementa, no heavier blow was ever aimed at the commerce of New York, and we see no way in which it can be resisted or evaded.

New York, May 5.

The Commercial's special says the President this morning stated he should veto the Colorado bill.

Chicago, May 6. The Times' Washington special says the Freedmen's Bureau received dispatches from Memphis stating that the riot commenced in an affray between a party of discharged soldiers, and a squad of police. Both parties were at fault. the latter for using excessive violence, and the former for resisting authority.— About 30 colored people were killed during 30 days, and all the colored school-houses and churches were burned.

The Tribune's Washington special of the 5th says the Senate Finance Committee have agreed to report Sherman's loan bill without amendment.

Washington, May 5.
The Ways and Means Committee considerably reduced the tax bill since reporting it, and have therefore had the bill re-printed. Among the changes the tax on the grown receipts of expresses and telegraphs is reduced from five to

ROBERT LINCOLN.—The Washington correspondent of the Nashville

"You remember Bobert Lincoln, so of the late President! He was generall liked here as an amiable and intelligen liked here as an amiable and intelligent young gentleman, not quite equal to his father in ability, but of superior culture. A story is just now current in which his name is so freely bandled, and so universally, that, seeing that all the parties are of public notoriety, there may be no impropriety in alluding to it. Nearly two years ago, so the story Tain, Rebert fell in love with a young lady whose father was at one time out of office and out of money. To be in this condition in Washington is next to being convicted of forging a Governto being convicted of forging a Govern-ment bond or murder in the first degree, and the idea of marrying the lady in that condition was not to be thought of. So the amiable Robert set about mending the matter, and made a desperate effort to secure the proposed father in-law a seat in the Lower House of Con-

He failed in this, however, and was at a dead halt, when luckily a member of the Cabinet died. Here was a vacancy, and the lover, speeding on the wings of passion, amerous, flew to the President, and stated the whole case to him with great frankness. "I like your way of doing business, Bob," said Mr. Lincoln, "and, if possible, I will work the thing for you." To cut a long tale short, he did "work it"—the brokendown politician became a member of the Cabinet; the young affiance was soon converted into a leader of fashion; and all went sweetly as a marriage-bell to-ward the wedding day. But the adage never fails to hold its own, and in this. as in every other case, the course of true love did not run smooth. The hand of the assassin interposed.

The young gentleman found himself bereft of father, of fortune and of place at one fell swoop. On the other hand, the Cabinet member created by his interposition had experienced a change of fortune; for, having shuffled his cards skilfully, he was just returned a Senator in Congress. The lady wavered, the nuptials were postponed, and finally, as visions of a gay career and better match began to flit across her beautiful blue eyes, she resolved that she was not so nuch in love as she had been, and she broke off the engagement altogether. I tell you the tale as it was told tells.

A case is now pending before the Police Court to test the right of Street Railroad Companies to refuse greenbacks for fares and tickets. Judge Rix will give his decision next week in favor of the greenbacks. The case will go to higher Courts whichever way the Police Judge may decide. The matter is pre-sented in the shape of an action for assault and battery by a passenger named Crouch, who was ejected from a car for refusing to pay coin.

Ar a dinner party in New York on Tuesday night, Mr. Greeley stated that since the commencement of the Tribune in 1841, something like five hundred daily newspapers have been started in the city of New York, of which not more than five survive. The Tribune was started on a capital of one thousand dollars, and that, as Mr. Greelev states. borrowed money. To establish the World the editor says, and no one will doubt it, cost two hundred thousand dollars.

A short time since Hon. Ignatius Don nelly addressed a letter to Gen. Grant which was endorsed by the Minnesota and a portion of the Wisconsin delegation in Congress, asking that Col. Bab. cock, who was appointed to survey northern route to Montana, should go with his party from St Paul and not up the Missouri. The request of the dele-gation was forwarded to Gen Sherman. who replied that he bad no cavalry to scort a party "across the country from St Paul," but suggested that "Colonel Babesck pould go from St. Paul to Ambererombie, and thence to Fort Rice or Berthold along with some emigrant
